

Supporting domestic abuse survivors to register to vote anonymously | Electoral Commission Search Supporting domestic abuse survivors to register to vote anonymously You are in the section Home First published: 7 March 2022 Last updated: 10 May 2023 Summary Anonymous registration was set up to help individuals whose safety would be at risk (or where the safety of other people at the same address as them would be at risk) if their name or address was listed on the electoral register, such as domestic abuse survivors. You can download our guide for professionals working with domestic abuse survivors, which tells you how you can support your clients to register to vote anonymously. Download the resources Scotland This guide was created in partnership with Scottish Women's Aid. Anonymous registration - guide for professionals working with domestic abuse survivors (Scotland) Wales We have worked with Welsh Women's Aid to produce guidance for professionals supporting survivors of Violence against Women, Domestic Abuse and Sexual Violence to register to vote. Anonymous registration guide for Wales England Anonymous registration: Supporting survivors of domestic abuse to register to vote for England Related content Register to vote anonymously Find out about how to register to vote anonymously for your safety. Register to vote All you need to register to vote is 5 minutes and your National Insurance number. Voting in person Voting in person on polling day? Learn more about what to expect when you go to the polling station.