

Committee You are in the How we make decisions section Home How we make decisions On this page Selecting our commissioners Approving our plans and budgets Our MP about the Speaker's Committee First published: 30 May 2019 Last updated: 30 July 2020 About the Speaker's Committee The Speaker's Committee is a committee in the House of Commons, made up of members of parliament (MPs). It looks at what we do, and makes recommendations and decisions about some areas of our work. Selecting our commissioners The Speaker's Committee is involved in selecting our commissioners. It considers the candidates, and makes recommendations to the House of Commons. about how we select our commissioners . Approving our plans and budgets After a new UK Parliament is elected we submit a five-year corporate plan to the Speaker's Committee for approval. Once agreed, it is laid in Parliament. For each year of the corporate plan, we submit an annual budget and corporate plan to the Speaker's Committee. This includes an estimate of our income and spending for the year. The Speaker's Committee reviews these documents and makes any necessary changes before presenting them to the House of Commons for approval. Our MP The Speaker nominates an MP to answer questions from other MPs about our work. about the Speaker's Committee Find out: about the Speaker's Committee who's part of the Speaker's Committee Related content Our Commissioners Interim corporate plan 2020/21 - 2024/25 Our interim corporate plan was published following the 2019 UK Parliament general election. It has now been replaced by our 2022/23 to 2026/27 plan. Our spending about our spending estimates, reports and accounts Register to vote All you need to register to vote is 5 minutes and your National Insurance number.