

Political Finance Online    You are in the   section Home   On this page Download a guide for Political Finance Online First published: 30 May 2019 Last updated: 7 October 2020 Change of deadlines for the over £250,000 spending returns for the 2019 General election The spending returns for parties and campaigners who spent over £250,000 at the 2019 general election were expected in June 2020 but due to Covid-19 not all parties and campaigners were able to deliver returns by that deadline. Therefore, we are publishing spending returns in batches, so that voters can see the spending information that is ready for release; this means the information on the following pages is not yet complete and is being updated when we publish each batch. Overview of our finance database Visit Political Finance Online We publish all of the information political parties, campaigners and other groups report to us on our finance database. This is so you can see what political parties, campaigners and other groups are doing. The rules for publishing this information are different in Northern Ireland. At the moment, the legislation doesn't allow us to publish any information about donations and loans from before 1 July 2017. On the database, you can look at: donations and loans spending registration and accounts You can also add search criteria and filters, or search by keyword.
