

Council elections in Scotland You are in the Non-party campaigners: Council elections in Scotland section Home Non-party campaigners: Council elections in Scotland View the navigation tree Go to main guidance section: Non-party campaigners: Council elections in Scotland What are non-party campaigners? Local campaigns at council elections The regulated period Spending limits Reporting Imprints Spending limits During a regulated period, non-party campaigners are subject to limits on their spending on campaign activity. The spending limit for council elections is: £50 plus 0.5p per local government elector in the ward who is registered to vote on the last day for publication of the notice of election in the ward For example If there are 1,000 people on the ward electoral register, your spending limit for campaigning for or against a candidate would be:  $\text{£}50 + (1000 \times 0.5\text{p})$   $\text{£}50 + (\text{£}5) = \text{£}55$  Your local elections office will be able to give you the number of electors in the ward. You can find the contact details for your local elections office on our Elections in your area page . You should keep a record of your spending, to make sure that you do not exceed the spending limit. Any spending over these limits must be authorised by the agent of the relevant candidate. The authorised spending will count as candidate spending and towards the candidate's spending limit. Last updated: 17 December 2021 Book traversal links for Spending limits The regulated period Reporting