

Explore the data: Who is and isn't registered to vote? | Electoral Commission
Search

Explore the data: Who is and isn't registered to vote?

Introduction There are lots of factors which affect whether someone is registered to vote - from age to how long someone has lived in their home. We've found that young people, students and those who have recently moved are least likely groups to be registered. Registering just isn't on the top of peoples' to do list when they've just moved house or started their student life. Choose an area and find out how many people like you are registered to vote. Please note that we only have limited data for some areas. Who is registered?