

Campaign spending at the Scottish referendum | Electoral Commission   Search Campaign spending at the Scottish referendum   You are in the Scottish Independence referendum section Home Scottish Independence referendum On this page Table: Total spending at the Scottish independence referendum Chart: Total spending at the Scottish independence referendum Chart: Spending over referendum campaign period First published: 29 July 2019 Last updated: 9 August 2021 Overview Under the Scottish Independence Referendum Act, registered campaigners were required to complete campaign spending returns if they spent more than £10,000 on their campaign.
If they spent £10,000 or less they were required to submit nil campaign expenditure returns Forty-two organisations and individuals registered with as campaigners at the referendum. Altogether, the forty-two campaigners reported spending £6,664,950 on campaigning at the referendum. Five registered campaigners reported spending of more than £250,000 campaigning in the regulated period, from 30 May 2014 until 18 September 2014, spending a total of £5,230,642. s spending more than £250,000 were required to submit an independently audited return to the Commission by 18 March 2015. View our report on the regulation of campaigners at the Scottish independence referendum . Table: Total spending at the Scottish independence referendum Referendum spending details Referendum spending Chart: Total spending at the Scottish independence referendum Chart: Spending over referendum campaign period Related content Report: Regulation of campaigners at the independence referendum held on 18 September 2014 Read our report about regulation at the Scottish independence referendum Report: Scottish Independence Referendum Read our report about the Scottish Independence Referendum Our advice on the proposed Scottish independence referendum question Read our advice on the proposed Scottish independence referendum question Donations and loans reported by campaigners at the Scottish referendum View donations and loans reported by campaigners at the Scottish referendum