

Electoral fraud data | Electoral Commission    Search    Electoral fraud data    You are in the Our research section Home    Our research In this section 2022 electoral fraud data 2021 electoral fraud data 2020 electoral fraud data 2019 electoral fraud data 2018 electoral fraud data 2017 electoral fraud data Summary

We take the risk of electoral fraud very seriously. Throughout the year, all police forces across the UK send us data about allegations of electoral fraud that they receive and investigate. Every year we report on the number, type, and outcome of these allegations, so that you can understand what's happened and how cases are resolved. Overview In the past 5 years, there is no evidence of large-scale electoral fraud. Of the 1,386 cases of alleged electoral fraud reported to police between 2018 and 2022, 9 led to convictions and the police issued 6 cautions. Most cases either resulted in the police taking no further action or were locally resolved by the police issuing words of advice. Related content Donations and loans Find out about donations and loans to a political party, individual or other organisation Register to vote All you need to register to vote is 5 minutes and your National Insurance number. Public funds View data about public funds received by parties Registers of unincorporated associations Download and view the registers of unincorporated associations