The notice of election published by the Police Area Returning Officer (PARO) will specify the times and exact location to which nomination papers must be delivered.

Ensure that where signatures are required, you submit the original signed version of each completed paper. Documents without original signatures cannot be accepted.

The UK government has made legislation to reduce the number of subscribers that are required by each candidate for elections where the notice of election is published before, or on, 28 February 2022. We have updated our guidance and resources to reflect this legislation and the updated requirements for the nominations process. Please note that paper 1a: the Nomination paper, contains more space for subscribers than is needed. The Cabinet Office has published a table outlining how many subscribers are required for each Police area, which you can find here

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

Data protection legislation applies to the processing of all personal data. Please contact the Information Commissioner's Office for further information about how the legislation affects you.

When collecting subscriber information, you should point out what the information will be used for, and how personal data will be processed and kept secure. The lawful basis to collect the information in these forms is that it is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest and exercise of official authority as set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 and associated regulations.

You should also explain that the information will be shared with the PARO. For further information on data protection and data processing you should refer to the PARO's privacy notice on their website.

This checklist is designed to assist candidates standing in a Police, Fire and Crime Commissioner election in preparing to submit their nomination, and should be read alongside the Electoral Commission's Guidance for candidates and agents.

Insert the name of the police area and poll date – check with the PARO if you are unsure.
Add your full name – title, surname and all other names in full in the relevant boxes.
Optional – Use the commonly used name(s) box(es) if you commonly use a name that is different from any forename or surname that you have and you want it to be used instead of your full name.
Description – Party candidates can use a party name or description registered with the Electoral Commission and must match the details shown on the required certificate of authorisation from that party; others can use 'Independent' (and/or 'Annibynnol' in Wales ) or leave this blank. Whatever you enter in this box will appear as your description on the ballot paper.
Subscribers –The number of subscribers required for the elections where the notice of election is published before, or on, 28 February 2022 is twice the number of local authorities (or part of such an authority) in the police area. The Cabinet Office has published a table outlining how many subscribers are required for each Police area, which you can find here . Each subscriber must also have their electoral number printed. Use your copy of the electoral register to make sure the electoral numbers of all subscribers are accurate. The register will also indicate which voting area (local authority) the elector is from. When collecting subscriber information ensure that you explain what the information will be used for and that the information will be shared with the PARO.  Please include the name of the candidate, description (if any) and name of the police area

Please note that paper 1a: the Nomination paper, may contain more space for subscribers than is needed.

The Cabinet Office has published a table outlining how many subscribers are required for each Police voting area, which you can find  $\underline{\text{here}}$

Notes

- 1. Candidates and election agents should read the rules for filling up nomination papers and other provisions relating to nomination and deposits contained in the PCC Elections Rules.
- 2. Where a candidate is commonly known by some title they may be described by their title as if it were part of their surname.
- 3. Where a candidate commonly uses a name that is different from any other name they have, the commonly used name will appear on the ballot paper instead of any other name.
- 4. The ballot paper will show the other name if the Police Area Returning Officer thinks that the use of the commonly used name a) may be likely to mislead or confuse electors or b) is obscene or offensive.
- 5. A person's electoral number is his/her number in the electoral register to be used at the election, including the distinctive letter of the parliamentary polling district in which he/she is registered.
- 6. An elector may not subscribe more than one nomination paper for the same Police and Crime Commissioner election.
- 7. In this form "elector"-
  - a) means a person whose name is registered in the register of local government electors for the electoral area in question on the last day for the publication of notice of election; and
  - b) includes a person then shown in the register as below voting age if (but only if) it appears from the register that he/she will be of voting age on the day fixed for the poll.
- 8. However, a person who has an anonymous entry in the register of local government electors cannot nominate a candidate for election.

A candidate supported by a certificate of authorisation signed by the Nominating Officer of a political party (or someone on their behalf) may use the party name or a description allowed by that certificate and registered with the Electoral Commission. A candidate may stand on behalf of two or more different parties and use a registered joint description if supported by certificate of authorisation from each of the parties. Any candidate may alternatively use the description of 'Independent' (and/or 'Annibynnol' in Wales), or leave the description box blank.

To accompany the nomination of a candidate standing on behalf of a registered political party. (Note: candidates standing on behalf of two or more parties require a certificate from each party and each must allow the same registered joint description to be used).

This certificate must be authorised by the registered Nominating Officer of the party or by a person authorised to sign on their behalf.

This certificate authorises the candidate to use the name of the party registered with the Electoral Commission or a description of the party registered with the Electoral Commission.

This authorised party name or description can then be included by the candidate on the nomination form. It is this which will appear as their description on the ballot paper. Party names and registered descriptions are listed on the Electoral Commission's website (http://search.electoralcommission.org.uk).
